Reporting and Analytics

Technical Enhancements

The Reporting and Analytics team placed an emphasis on carrying out technical work to address inconsistencies in several fields across existing data packages. Additionally, technical work was completed to establish standards for testing of new functionality throughout the development process.

- Staffing Reports > New Hires namespace and New Hire (End of Day)
    - The New Hire Onboarding Documents query subject and associated query items were updated to include documents submitted by the new hire during the application stage of the selection process. The query subject and query items were previously limited to only show documents submitted during the onboarding process.

- Staffing Reports > Applications namespace
    - The Application Ratings query subject and associated query items were updated to ensure that application ratings are populated even for vacancies that do not have an assessment. The query subject and query items were previously limited to only show ratings for vacancies that include an assessment.

- Defining Testing Standards
    - The Reporting and Analytics team conducted a full review of testing activities completed by the technical team as part of the development process. This review provided the opportunity to identify efficiencies, ensure testing activities are standardized across technical team members, and document procedures.
